Professional Development for Creative Practitioners

Birr Theatre
&
Arts Centre

WORKHOUSE UNION

Learn how to expand your artistic practice and facilitate artistic sessions and workshops in the community.

Connect, collaborate, and leave an indelible mark on Birr's cultural landscape! This programme is your ticket to upskilling, amplifying your creative voice and becoming a catalyst for positive change

- Dive into the art of facilitation
- Explore inclusive community engagement
- Discover more about diverse group dynamics
- Learn the magic of storytelling
- embrace the power of your unique perspective

Birr Theatre & Arts Centre and Workhouse Union are excited to invite artists and educators to participate in a new programme of training for creatives in the midlands where you will develop understanding and skills to engage local communities through the arts.

By participating, you will elevate your artistic practice through upskilling and learning how to devise and deliver community engagement activities and workshops.

Join us in building a vibrant, inclusive arts community that embraces the power of every artist's unique perspective.

To secure your spot please complete the short online application form available on the theatre's website and let your creativity shine in the heart of Birr!

This programme is supported by the Arts Council Capacity Building Support Scheme.

Professional Development for Creative Practitioners

A brand new training programme aiming to equip arts practitioners with a new set of skills to help them expand their art practice into working with groups and engaging with local communities.

By participating in this programme, you will automatically become a member of our panel of arts facilitators to deliver community engagement workshops in the future.

Numbers are Limited so be sure to apply before March 1st
No charge for participation
